

The Presenters: January 28, 2009
PJVA Early Morning Session

Introduction:

Alex Fuller is a Joint Venture Accountant Consultant specializing in the; Continuous improvement of billing systems, resolving jib issues efficiently and compromising on the small stuff

Alex gave his “ Show me the Money” presentation at the May 2008 PJVA Luncheon.

He is an advocate of good communications, a promoter of the JIB Link system. He organizes jv accounting “ peer group” socials and has a special interest in improving the role of the jv accountant as part of the JV team.

Murray Feddema is a joint venture consultant with a background in jv contracts development and jv property management. Through his involvement with PJVA, his prior employment with Husky and current work with his clients, he welcomes the opportunity to bring JV people together to appreciate issues and share in reducing jv problems.

Murray and Alex have considerable experiences with “well charge” issues and welcome the opportunity to present some views this morning. They have opposing views on some issues, and hope to bring your views into the discussion this morning.
